

Objective

To work with skillful development teams take on challenging projects using the most efficient technologies available.

Skills

Perl, PHP, MySQL, Actionscript, Flash, Apache, Adobe CS3, Ruby, XHTML, CSS, JavaScript, Ajax, SOAP/REST, Catalyst, DBIC, Symfony, Google Developer APIs, Mac OSX, Windows, Linux, C

Education

B.A. Computer Science

Middlebury College, Middlebury, VT (1997-2001)

Experience

Senior Integration Developer

Tackle.com – New York, NY (September 2007 – March 2009)

- Integrated several 3rd party solutions into the Tackle Application including Facebook, Gigya, National Collegiate Recruiting Association and Bunchball
- Created development and deployment services using Amazon EC2 and S3
- Created several flash applications including a video player and embeddable viral widgets
- Implemented a Multi-sport validated statistics database for high school athletes to enter their own achievements and showcase them to college recruiters
- Helped develop a message queue system to support an active user base that grew to over half a million users

Developer

Heavy.com – New York, NY (June 2006 – September 2007)

- Created and managed site CMS for all site content, reports, and marketing emails
- Managed mobile video channels for Sprint and Verizon
- Managed site registration, surveys, microsites and affiliated reporting
- Developed several custom flash channels and branded promotional pages for large advertising campaigns

Freelance Web Designer and Developer

Self-Employed – Telecommute (June 2003 – Present)

TheMoneyMammals.com

Developed and maintained an informational site for parents attempting to teach their children how to save money.

StevenKratchmanArchitect.com

Designed and developed an entire site showcasing the works of a New York based architecture firm

HappyMenocal.com

Developed site and admin tool for New York based designer

KatharineBarnwell.com

Developed site for New York based Artist